DESIGNED BY WOMEN

I really like the theme of the website. It puts the woman in the foreground in a page made by her and for her. On a technical level, the scroll has a very harmonious movement and has a scroll from left to right has caught my attention. It also has buttons at the bottom that allow you to scroll to the top and to the filters. Also, the colours are soft and match each other very well.

In the index the 3D figures on a dark background with white letters cause attention together with the movement of the rocks in space. The pointer turns into a circle when it passes through the letters and images and symbols appear as background of the letters, which forces more attention. The 3 dimensions of space and the number of projects that this website carries out are highlighted throughout the page.
